Item 2 – Material Changes

Form ADV 2 is divided into two parts: Part 2A (the "Disclosure Brochure") and Part 2B (the "Brochure Supplement"). The Disclosure Brochure provides information about a variety of topics relating to an Advisor's business practices and conflicts of interest. The Brochure Supplement provides information about advisory personnel of JAI. For convenience, we have combined these documents into a single disclose document

JAI believes that communication and transparency are the foundation of its relationship and continually strive to provide its Clients with complete and accurate information at all times. JAI encourages all current and prospective Clients to read this Disclosure Brochure and discuss any questions you may have with us. And of course, we always welcome your feedback.

Material Changes

There have been no material changes to this Disclosure Brochure since the last distribution to Clients.

Future Changes

From time to time, we may amend this Disclosure Brochure to reflect changes in our business practices, changes in regulations and routine annual updates as required by the securities regulators. This complete Disclosure Brochure or a Summary of Material Changes shall be provided to each Client annually and if a material change occurs.

At any time, you may view the current Disclosure Brochure on-line at the SEC's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with our firm name or our CRD# 164119. Item 4 – Advisory Services

A. Firm Information

Jarrold Adams Investing LLC (“JAI” or the “Advisor”) is a registered investment advisor located in the State of North Carolina, which is organized as a Limited Liability Company (“LLC”) under the laws of North Carolina. JAI was founded in 2012 and is owned and operated by Jarrod Adams (“Chief Executive Officer” and Chief Compliance Officer) and Shanon Adams (“Principal”). This Disclosure Brochure provides information regarding the qualifications, business practices, and the advisory services provided by JAI.

The Advisor serves as a fiduciary to Clients, as defined under applicable laws and regulations. As such, each recommendation made as part of the advisory services is based on the belief that the recommendation is in the Client's best interest. Our fiduciary commitment to each Client is further described in our Code of Ethics. For more information regarding our Code of Ethics, please see “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading.”

B. Advisory Services Offered

JAI offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, and estates in North Carolina and other states (each referred to as a “Client”).

Investment Management Services

JAI provides customized investment advisory solutions for its Clients. This is achieved through continuous personal Client contact and interaction while providing discretionary investment management and consulting services. JAI works with each Client to identify their investment goals and objectives as well as risk tolerance and financial situation in order to create a portfolio strategy. JAI will then construct a portfolio, mainly consisting of mutual funds and/or exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”) to achieve the Client's investment goals. The Advisor may also utilize individual stocks, bonds, U.S. government bonds, and municipal bonds to meet the needs of its Clients. In certain rare circumstances, the Advisor may utilize options to hedge certain investment positions.

JAI's investment strategy is primarily long-term focused, but the Advisor may buy, sell or re-allocate positions that have been held less than one year to meet the objectives of the Client or due to market conditions. JAI will construct, implement and monitor the portfolio to ensure it meets the goals, objectives, circumstances, and risk tolerance agreed to by the Client. Each Client will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in their respective portfolio, subject to the acceptance by the Advisor.

JAI evaluates and selects assets for inclusion in Client portfolios only after applying their internal due diligence process. JAI may recommend, on occasion, redistributing investment allocations to diversify the portfolio. JAI may recommend specific positions to increase sector or asset class weightings. The Advisor may recommend employing cash positions as a possible hedge against market movement. JAI may recommend selling positions for reasons that include, but are not limited to, harvesting capital gains or losses, business or sector risk exposure to a specific security or class of securities, overvaluation or overweighting of the position[s] in the portfolio, change in risk tolerance of Client, generating cash to meet Client needs, or any risk deemed unacceptable for the Client's risk tolerance.

JAI will provide investment management and related services. At no time will JAI accept or maintain custody of a Client's funds or securities. All Client assets will be managed within their designated account[s] at the Custodian, pursuant to the Client investment advisory agreement. For additional information, please see "Item 15 - Custody and Item 12 – Brokerage Practices."

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

JAI will typically provide a variety of financial planning services to individuals and families, pursuant to a written financial planning or consulting agreement. Services are offered in several areas of a Client's financial situation, depending on their goals, objectives and financial situation.

Generally, such financial planning services will involve preparing a financial plan or rendering a financial consultation based on the Client's financial goals and objectives. This planning or consulting may encompass one or more areas of need, including, but not limited to investment planning, retirement planning, personal savings, education savings and other areas of a Client's financial situation.

A financial plan developed for or financial consultation rendered to the Client will usually include general recommendations for a course of activity or specific actions to be taken by the Client. For example, recommendations may be made that the Client start or revise their investment programs, commence or alter retirement savings, establish education savings and/or charitable giving programs. JAI may also refer Clients to an accountant, attorney or another specialist, as appropriate for their unique situation. For certain financial planning engagements, the Advisor will provide a written summary of Client's financial situation, observations, and recommendations. For consulting or ad-hoc engagements, the Advisor may not provide a written summary. Plans or consultations are typically completed within six months of contract date, assuming all information and documents requested are provided promptly.

Financial planning and consulting recommendations may pose a potential conflict between the interests of the Advisor and the interests of the Client. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendations made by the Advisor or maintain an ongoing relationship with the Advisor. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations made by the Advisor, the Client is under no obligation to implement the transaction through the Advisor.

Employer Guidance for 401(k) Plans

JAI also offers consulting services to help Clients determine their risk preference and provide the Client advice on their 401(k) allocations. The Advisor also provides the Client with updated allocation changes throughout the year. At no point will JAI have custody of the Client accounts or access to make changes in their account.

C. Client Account Management

Prior to engaging JAI to provide advisory services, each Client is required to enter into one or more advisory agreements with the Advisor that define the terms, conditions, authority and responsibilities of the Advisor and the Client. These services may include:

- Establishing an Investment Strategy – JAI, in connection with the Client, will develop an investment strategy that seeks to achieve the Client's investment goals and objectives.
- Asset Allocation – JAI will develop a strategic asset allocation that is targeted to meet the investment objectives, time horizon, financial situation and tolerance of risk for each Client.
- Portfolio Construction – JAI will develop a portfolio for the Client that is intended to meet the stated goals and objectives of the Client.
- Investment Management and Supervision – JAI will provide investment management and ongoing oversight of the Client's investment portfolio.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

JAI does not manage or place Client assets into a wrap fee program. Investment management services are provided directly by JAI.

E. Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2017, JAI manages $17,673,091 in Client assets, all of which are on a discretionary basis. Clients may request more current information at any time by contacting the Advisor.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The following paragraphs detail the fee structure and compensation methodology for investment management. Each Client shall sign one or more agreements that detail the responsibilities of JAI and the Client.

A. Fees for Advisory Services

Investment Management Services

Investment advisory fees are paid quarterly, at the end of each calendar quarter, pursuant to the terms of the investment advisory agreement. Investment advisory fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of the quarter. Investment advisory fees are based on the following schedule:

Assets Under Management	Annual Rate
Up to $1,000,000	1.00%
$1,000,001 to $5,000,000	0.75%
Over $5,000,000	0.50%

The investment advisory fee in the first quarter of service is prorated to the inception date of the account[s] to the end of the first quarter. Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor. The Client's fees will take into account the aggregate assets under management with the Advisor. All securities held in accounts managed by JAI will be independently valued by the Custodian. JAI will not have the authority or responsibility to value portfolio securities.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

JAI offers financial planning or consulting services at an hourly rate of up to $150 per hour. Fees may be negotiable depending on the nature and complexity of each Client's circumstances. An estimate for total hours will be determined prior to establishing the advisory relationship. The hourly fees are determined after considering many factors, such as the level and scope of the services.

Employer Guidance for 401(k) Plans

JAI offers financial planning services for an annual flat fee of $200 per year, which may be negotiable depending on the nature and complexity of each Client's circumstances.

B. Fee Billing

Investment Management Services

Investment advisory fees will be calculated by the Advisor or its delegate and deducted from the Client's account[s] at the Custodian. The Advisor or its delegate shall send an invoice to the Custodian indicating the amount of the fees to be deducted from the Client's account[s] at the respective quarter-end date. The amount due is calculated by applying the quarterly rate (annual rate divided by 4) to the total assets under management with JAI at the end of the quarter. Clients will be provided with a statement, at least quarterly, from the Custodian reflecting deduction of the investment advisory fee. In addition, the Advisor will provide the Client a report itemizing the fee, including the calculation period covered by the fee, the account value and the methodology used to calculate the fee. JAI recommends that the Client verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the Custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility. Clients provide written authorization permitting JAI to be paid directly from their accounts held by the Custodian as part of the investment advisory agreement and separate account forms provided by the Custodian.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

Financial planning and consulting fees are invoiced by the Advisor and are due upon completion of the engagement deliverable[s].

Employer Guidance for 401(k) Plans

The financial planning fee for 401(k) Plans can be paid either annually, quarterly or monthly, and are due in advance.

C. Other Fees and Expenses

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third parties, other than JAI, in connection with investment made on behalf of the Client's account[s]. The Client is responsible for all custody and securities execution fees charged by the Custodian. The investment advisory fee charged by JAI is separate and distinct from these custody and execution fees.

In addition, all fees paid to JAI for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee. A Client may be able to invest in these products directly, without the services of JAI, but would not receive the services provided by JAI which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which products or services are most appropriate to each Client's financial situation and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the fund[s] and the fees charged by JAI to fully understand the total fees to be paid. Please refer to "Item 12 – Brokerage Practices" for additional information.

D. Advance Payment of Fees and Termination

Investment Management Services

JAI is compensated for its services at the end of the quarter, after investment advisory services are rendered. Either party may request to terminate the investment advisory agreement, at any time, by providing advance written notice to the other party. The Client may also terminate the investment advisory agreement within five (5) business days of signing the Advisor's agreement at no cost to the Client. After the five-day period, the Client will incur charges for bona fide advisory services rendered to the point of termination and such fees will be due and payable by the Client. Upon termination, the Client shall be responsible for prorated investment advisory fees up to and including the effective date of termination. The Client's investment advisory agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without Client's prior consent.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

The Advisor is compensated for its financial planning services after completion of the engagement deliverable[s]. Either party may terminate a planning or consulting agreement, at any time, by providing written notice to the other party. In addition, the Client may terminate the agreement within five (5) business days of signing the Advisor's financial planning or consulting agreement at no cost to the Client. After the five-day period, the Client will incur charges for bona fide advisory services rendered to the point of termination and such fees will be due and payable by the Client. The Client's financial planning agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without Client's prior consent.

E. Compensation for Sales of Securities

JAI does not buy or sell securities and does not receive any compensation for securities transactions in any Client account[s], other than the investment advisory fees noted above.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

JAI does not charge performance-based fees for its investment advisory services. The fees charged by JAI are as described in "Item 5 – Fees and Compensation" above and are not based upon the capital appreciation of the funds or securities held by any Client.

JAI does not manage any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund) and has no financial incentive to recommend any particular investment options to its Clients.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

JAI offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, and estates. The amount of each type of Client is available on the Advisor's Form ADV Part 1A. These amounts may change over time and are updated at least annually by the Advisor. JAI generally does not impose a minimum size for establishing a relationship.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis

JAI employs fundamental and technical analysis methods in developing investment strategies for its Clients. Research and analysis from JAI is derived from numerous sources, including financial media companies, third-party research materials, Internet sources, and review of company activities, including annual reports, prospectuses, press releases and research prepared by others.

Fundamental Analysis

Fundamental analysis utilizes economic and business indicators as investment selection criteria. These criteria are generally ratios and trends that may indicate the overall strength and financial viability of the entity being analyzed. Assets are deemed suitable if they meet certain criteria to indicate that they are a strong investment with a value discounted by the market. While this type of analysis helps the Advisor in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting the investment criteria utilized in the fundamental analysis may lose value and may have negative investment performance. The Advisor monitors these economic indicators to determine if adjustments to strategic allocations are appropriate. More details on the Advisor's review process are included in "Item 13 – Review of Accounts."

Technical Analysis

Technical Analysis is used to analyze various economic and market trends. These trends, both short- and long-term, are used for determining specific trade entry and exit points and broad economic analysis. These trends may include put/call ratios, pricing trends, moving averages, volume, and changes in volume, among many others. Indicators used by JAI do not speak to the financial health of a particular issuer. Rather, indicators are used to gauge market sentiment regarding a given issue. Technical Analysis will be used primarily for the timing of a particular trade, and not security selection.

As noted above, JAI generally employs a long-term investment strategy for its Clients, as consistent with their financial goals. JAI will typically hold all or a portion of a security for more than a year, but may hold for shorter periods for the purpose of rebalancing a portfolio or meeting the cash needs of Clients. At times, JAI may also buy and sell positions that are more short-term in nature, depending on the goals of the Client and/or the fundamentals of the security, sector or asset class.

B. Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. JAI will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for managing a Client's account. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's account[s]. The Advisor shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform the Advisor of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis.

The risks associated with investment strategies are provided to each Client in advance of investing Client accounts. The Advisor will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the portfolio construction process. Following are some of the risks associated with the potential speculative components of the Advisor's strategy:

Market Risks

The value of a Client's holdings may fluctuate in response to events specific to companies or markets, as well as economic, political, or social events in the U.S. and abroad. This risk is linked to the performance of the overall financial markets.

ETF Risks

The performance of ETFs is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the ETFs will fluctuate with the price of the underlying securities that make up the funds. In addition, ETFs have a trading risk based on the loss of cost efficiency if the ETFs are traded actively and a liquidity risk if the ETFs has a large bid-ask spread and low trading volume. The price of an ETF fluctuates based upon the market movements and may dissociate from the index being tracked by the ETF or the price of the underlying investments. An ETF purchased or sold at one point in the day may have a different price than the same ETF purchased or sold a short time later.

Options Contracts

Investments in options contracts have the risk of losing value in a relatively short period of time. Option contracts are leveraged instruments that allow the holder of a single contract to control many shares of an underlying stock. This leverage can compound gains or losses.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments involve a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal, regulatory or disciplinary events involving JAI or any of its Supervised Persons. JAI and its Supervised Persons value the trust you place in us. As we advise all Clients, we encourage you to perform the requisite due diligence on any advisor or service provider in which you partner. Our backgrounds are on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with our firm name or our CRD# 164119. You may also research the background of Mr. Adams by searching with his full name or his Individual CRD# 4682375.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Mr. Adams is also the CEO of Jarrod Adams Trading, LLC, a sporting event promotion company. Mr. Adams spends 2 hours a week during non-trading hours acting as the CEO of Jarrod Adams Trading, LLC.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

JAI has implemented a Code of Ethics (the "Code") that defines our fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code applies to all persons associated with JAI (our "Supervised Persons"). The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding our duties to you, our Client. JAI and its personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of JAI Supervised Persons to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code, but also to the general principles that guide the Code. The Code covers a range of topics that may address employee ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of our Code of Ethics, please contact us at (704) 996-4243.

B. Personal Trading with Material Interest

JAI allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. JAI does not act as principal in any transactions. In addition, the Advisor does not act as the general partner of a fund, or advise an investment company. JAI does not have a material interest in any securities traded in Client accounts.

C. Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

JAI allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities we recommend (purchase or sell) to you presents a potential conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, we must disclose to you and mitigate through policies and procedures. As noted above, we have adopted a Code, which addresses insider trading (material non-public information controls) and personal securities reporting procedures. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons of JAI may have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can potentially be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. This risk is mitigated by JAI by through review and reporting of personal securities transactions of the Clients. We have also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information.

D. Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While JAI allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients, these trades are either grouped together with Client trades or executed after Client orders have been placed and filled. At no time, will JAI or any Supervised Person of JAI, transact in any security to the detriment of any Client.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

A. Recommendation of Custodian[s]

JAI does not have discretionary authority to select the broker-dealer/custodian for custody and execution services. The Client will engage the broker-dealer/custodian (herein the "Custodian") to safeguard Client assets and authorize JAI to direct trades to the Custodian as agreed in the investment advisory agreement. Further, JAI does not have the discretionary authority to negotiate commissions on behalf of our Clients on a trade-by-trade basis.

Where JAI does not exercise discretion over the selection of the Custodian, it may recommend Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer and member SIPC, to Clients for custody and execution services. Clients are not obligated to use the Custodian recommended by the Advisor and will not incur any extra fee or cost associated with using a broker-dealer/custodian not recommended by JAI. JAI may recommend a custodian based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the Client and services made available to the Client. JAI does not receive research services, other products, or compensation as a result of recommending a particular broker-dealer/custodian that may result in the Client paying higher commissions than those obtainable through other broker-dealers/custodians.

JAI will generally recommend that Clients establish their account[s] at Schwab. Schwab will serve as the Client's "qualified custodian". JAI maintains an institutional relationship with Schwab, whereby the Advisor receives economic benefits from Schwab (Please see "Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation" below.)

Following are additional details regarding the brokerage practices of the Advisor:

1. Soft Dollars - Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers/custodians whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades with the broker-dealers/custodian in exchange for research and other services. JAI does not participate in soft dollar programs sponsored or offered by any broker-dealer/custodian. However, the Advisor does receive certain economic benefits from Schwab. Please see "Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation."

2. Brokerage Referrals - JAI does not receive any compensation from any third party in connection with the recommendation for establishing an account.

3. Directed Brokerage - All Clients are serviced on a "directed brokerage basis", where JAI will place trades within the established account[s] at the Custodian designated by the Client. Further, all Client accounts are traded within their respective brokerage account[s]. The Advisor will not engage in any principal transactions (i.e., trade of any security from or to the Advisor's own account) or cross transactions with other Client accounts (i.e., purchase of a security into one Client account from another Client's account[s]). JAI will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the Custodian.

B. Aggregating and Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the Custodian. JAI will execute its transactions through the Custodian as directed by the Client. JAI may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the Custodian for multiple (discretionary) accounts. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage particular Client accounts.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

A. Frequency of Reviews

Securities in Client accounts are monitored on a regular and continuous basis by Mr. Adams, Chief Executive Officer of JAI. Formal reviews are generally conducted at least annually or more or less frequently depending on the needs of the Client.

B. Causes for Reviews

In addition to the investment monitoring noted in Item 13.A., each Client account shall be reviewed at least annually. Reviews may be conducted more or less frequently at the Client's request. Accounts may be reviewed as a result of major changes in economic conditions, known changes in the Client's financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client's account[s]. The Client is encouraged to notify JAI if changes occur in his/her personal financial situation that might adversely affect his/her investment plan. Additional reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events.

C. Review Reports

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from the Custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian's website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client's account[s]. The Advisor may also provide Clients with periodic reports regarding their holdings, allocations, and performance. JAI recommends that the Client verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the Custodian's brokerage statements as well as the statements they receive from the Advisor.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Compensation Received by JAI

JAI is a fee-based advisory firm, that is compensated solely by its Clients and not from any investment product. JAI does not receive commissions or other compensation from product sponsors, broker-dealers or any un-related third party. JAI may refer Clients to various unaffiliated, non-advisory professionals (e.g. attorneys, accountants, estate planners) to provide certain financial services necessary to meet the goals of its Clients. Likewise, JAI may receive non-compensated referrals of new Clients from various third-parties

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform

JAI has established an institutional relationship with Schwab through its "Schwab Advisor Services" unit, a division of Schwab dedicated to serving independent advisory firms like JAI. As a registered investment advisor participating on the Schwab Advisor Services platform, JAI receives access to software and related support without cost because the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at Schwab. Services provided by Schwab Advisor Services benefit the Advisor and many, but not all services provided by Schwab will benefit Clients. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Services that Benefit the Client – Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of Client's funds and securities. Through Schwab, the Advisor may be able to access certain investments and asset classes that the Client would not be able to obtain directly or through other sources. Further, the Advisor may be able to invest in certain mutual funds and other investments without having to adhere to investment minimums that might be required if the Client were to directly access the investments.

Services that May Indirectly Benefit the Client – Schwab provides participating advisors with access to technology, research, discounts and other services. In addition, the Advisor receives duplicate statements for Client accounts, the ability to deduct advisory fees, trading tools, and back office support services as part of its relationship with Schwab. These services are intended to assist the Advisor in effectively managing accounts for its Clients, but may not directly benefit all Clients.

Services that May Only Benefit the Advisor – Schwab also offers other services to JAI that may not benefit the Client, including: educational conferences and events, financial start-up support, consulting services and discounts for various service providers. Access to these services creates a financial incentive for the Advisor to recommend Schwab, which results in a potential conflict of interest. JAI believes, however, that the selection of Schwab as Custodian is in the best interests of its Clients.

B. Client Referrals from Solicitors

JAI does not engage paid solicitors for Client referrals.

Item 15 – Custody

JAI does not accept or maintain custody of any Client accounts, except for the authorized deduction of the Advisor's fees. All Clients must place their assets with the "qualified custodian". Clients are required to engage the Custodian to retain their funds and securities and direct JAI to utilize the Custodian for the Client's security transactions. JAI encourages Clients to review statements provided by the Custodian. For more information about custodians and brokerage practices, see "Item 12 - Brokerage Practices".

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

JAI generally has discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold in Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the Client. However, these purchases or sales may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, or limitations previously set forth by the Client and agreed to by JAI. Discretionary authority will only be authorized upon full disclosure to the Client. The granting of such authority will be evidenced by the Client's execution of an investment advisory agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority. All discretionary trades made by JAI will be in accordance with each Client's investment objectives and goals.

In addition, JAI may also provide advisory services on a non-discretionary basis. In these instances, the Advisor would not have discretion to select the amount of securities to be bought or sold in Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the Client. Trades would only be executed after receipt of such approval.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

JAI does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from the Custodian. The Advisor will assist in answering questions relating to proxies, however, the Client retains the sole responsibility for proxy decisions and voting.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Neither JAI, nor its management has any adverse financial situations that would reasonably impair the ability of JAI to meet all obligations to its Clients. Neither JAI, nor any of its advisory persons, has been subject to a bankruptcy or financial compromise. JAI is not required to deliver a balance sheet along with this Disclosure Brochure as the firm does not collect advance fees of $500 for services to be performed six months or more in advance.

Privacy Policy

Effective: March 5, 2018

Our Commitment to You

Jarrold Adams Investing, LLC (“JAI” or the “Advisor”) is committed to safeguarding the use of personal information of our Clients (also referred to as “you” and “your”) that we obtain as your Investment Advisor, as described here in our Privacy Policy (“Policy”).

Our relationship with you is our most important asset. We understand that you have entrusted us with your private information, and we do everything that we can to maintain that trust. JAI (also referred to as “we”, “our” and “us”) protects the security and confidentiality of the personal information we have and implements controls to ensure that such information is used for proper business purposes in connection with the management or servicing of our relationship with you.

JAI does not sell your non-public personal information to anyone. Nor do we provide such information to others except for discrete and reasonable business purposes in connection with the servicing and management of our relationship with you, as discussed below.

Details of our approach to privacy and how your personal non-public information is collected and used are set forth in this Policy.

Why you need to know?

Registered Investment Advisors (“RIAs”) must share some of your personal information in the course of servicing your account. Federal and State laws give you the right to limit some of this sharing and require RIAs to disclose how we collect, share, and protect your personal information.

What information do we collect from you?

Driver’s license number	Date of birth
Social security or taxpayer identification number	Assets and liabilities
Name, address and phone number(s)	Income and expenses
E-mail address(es)	Investment activity
Account information (including other institutions)	Investment experience and goals

What Information do we collect from other sources?

Custody, brokerage and advisory agreements	Account applications and forms
Other advisory agreements and legal documents	Investment questionnaires and suitability documents
Transactional information with us or others	Other information needed to service account

How do we protect your information?

To safeguard your personal information from unauthorized access and use we maintain physical, procedural and electronic security measures. These include such safeguards as secure passwords, encrypted file storage and a secure office environment. Our technology vendors provide security and access control over personal information and have policies over the transmission of data. Our associates are trained on their responsibilities to protect Client’s personal information.

We require third parties that assist in providing our services to you to protect the personal information they receive from us.

How do we share your information?

An RIA shares Client personal information to effectively implement its services. In the section below, we list some reasons we may share your personal information.

Basis For Sharing	Do we share?	Can you limit?
Servicing our Clients We may share non-public personal information with non-affiliated third parties (such as administrators, brokers, custodians, regulators, credit agencies, other financial institutions) as necessary for us to provide agreed upon services to you, consistent with applicable law, including but not limited to: processing transactions; general account maintenance; responding to regulators or legal investigations; and credit reporting.	Yes	No
Marketing Purposes JAI does not disclose, and does not intend to disclose, personal information with non-affiliated third parties to offer you services. Certain laws may give us the right to share your personal information with financial institutions where you are a customer and where JAI or the client has a formal agreement with the financial institution. We will only share information for purposes of servicing your accounts, not for marketing purposes.	No	Not Shared
Authorized Users Your non-public personal information may be disclosed to you and persons that we believe to be your authorized agent(s) or representative(s).	Yes	Yes
Information About Former Clients JAI does not disclose and does not intend to disclose, non-public personal information to non-affiliated third parties with respect to persons who are no longer our Clients.	No	Not Shared

Changes to our Privacy Policy

We will send you a copy of this Policy annually for as long as you maintain an ongoing relationship with us.

Periodically we may revise this Policy, and will provide you with a revised policy if the changes materially alter the previous Privacy Policy. We will not, however, revise our Privacy Policy to permit the sharing of non-public personal information other than as described in this notice unless we first notify you and provide you with an opportunity to prevent the information sharing.

Any Questions?

You may ask questions or voice any concerns, as well as obtain a copy of our current Privacy Policy by contacting us at (704) 996-4243.
